Problem	Possible cause	Remedy
After installation and restart, no symbol appears in the Info section of the taskbar.	Error during installation.	Uninstall program and drivers and install again.
	WLAN USB stick not inserted correctly.	Insert the WLAN USB stick correctly.
The WLAN USB stick is not recognised when inserted.	The USB port is not functioning.	Test the USB port with another USB device. Reinstall the manufacturer's chipset driver.
The WLAN USB stick is recognised when inserted, but has only limited connectivity (Windows XP).	Wrong service pack installed.	Download the latest service pack (Version 2 or higher) from www.microsoft.com and install.
The WLAN USB stick is recognised when inserted, but no matching driver is found.	Error during installation.	Uninstall program and drivers and install again.
The desired peer is not shown in the list of available networks.	Peer not switched on. Peer out of range of the USB WLAN stick.	Switch on peer. Reduce the distance or use a WLAN repeater.

Problem	Possible cause	Remedy
The peer to which a connection is to be made is shown in the list of available networks, but no connection can be made.	The profile settings are not correct.	Check the following settings: – Network name (SSID) correct? – Checkbox "Ad-hoc" correctly activated? – Network authentication correct? – Data encryption correct? – Network code correct (pay attention to capitalisation)?
The connection to the peer has been made, but folders or interfaced devices cannot be accessed.	The desired resource (folder, drive, printer or Internet connection) has not been enabled.	Enable the desired resource for sharing in the network. Information can be found in the 'Help' of the operating system.
Limited connectivity.	The network code is not correct.	Check the network code.
		Automatic assignment of IP addresses is deactivated (DHCP server).
	No IP address allocated.	The DHCP server has not yet completed the automatic allocation of the IP address (this can take several minutes). Set the IP address manually.
No data can be exchanged via an "ad-hoc" connection.	No IP address allocated.	See "Limited connectivity".
	Network code, work group or "ad-hoc" network name do not match.	Check the settings:
	Channel numbers do not match.	Set the correct channel numbers.

Problem	Possible cause	Remedy
Occasional faults occur in an "ad-hoc" connection.	Possible frequency interference from microwave ovens, DECT telephones, Bluetooth devices or other transmitters.	Change to another channel.
